

MARK SCHEME for the May/June 2014 series

0524 FIRST LANGUAGE ENGLISH (US)

0524/23

Paper 2 (Reading Passages – Extended), maximum raw mark 50

This mark scheme is published as an aid to teachers and candidates, to indicate the requirements of the examination. It shows the basis on which Examiners were instructed to award marks. It does not indicate the details of the discussions that took place at an Examiners' meeting before marking began, which would have considered the acceptability of alternative answers.

Mark schemes should be read in conjunction with the question paper and the Principal Examiner Report for Teachers.

Cambridge will not enter into discussions about these mark schemes.

Cambridge is publishing the mark schemes for the May/June 2013 series for most IGCSE, GCE Advanced Level and Advanced Subsidiary Level components and some Ordinary Level components.

Cambridge.com Note: All examiners are instructed that alternative correct answers and u approaches in candidates' scripts must be given marks that fairly reflect the knowledge and skills demonstrated. Nonetheless, the content must be clearly related to derived from the passage.

Question 1

This question tests Reading Objectives R1-R3 (15 marks):

- understand and collate explicit meanings
- understand, explain and collate implicit meanings and attitudes
- select, analyse and evaluate what is relevant to specific purposes

AND Writing Objectives W1–W5 (5 marks):

- articulate experience and express what is thought, felt and imagined •
- order and present facts, ideas and opinions
- understand and use a range of appropriate vocabulary
- use language and register appropriate to audience and context
- make accurate and effective use of paragraphs, grammatical structures, sentences, punctuation and spelling.

Imagine that you are Tom Murphy. Write a journal entry for the day you took your friend to see a grizzly bear in Yellowstone Park.

In your journal entry you should explain:

- what you knew about this bear and its whereabouts
- the risks and possibilities once you had found the bear
- what you think about your friend's reactions and behaviour that day.

Base your journal entry on what you have read in Passage A. Address all three bullet points. Be careful to use your own words.

Begin your journal entry, 'What a day! ...'.

Write between $1\frac{1}{2}$ and 2 sides, allowing for the size of your handwriting.

Up to 15 marks are available for the content of your answer, and up to 5 marks for the quality of your writing. [Total: 20]

General notes:

Cambridge.com Candidates should select ideas from the passage (see below) and develop them relev supporting what they write with details from the passage and judging the appropriate register the genre, which is a journal entry recording a significant experience and which may later be read by others.

Annotate A1, A2 and A3 for the following references (see below).

Look for a clear and balanced response which covers the three areas of the question, is well sequenced, and is in the candidate's own words.

Responses might use the following ideas:

A1: what you knew about this bear and its whereabouts

- was there yesterday / have been watching it over time [dev. brought his friend today / expected to find it there]
- it had buried a carcass (det. bison) [dev. would return to it] •
- somewhere on prairie (det. no trees, sage) [dev. nowhere to hide if it attacked] •
- it would behave unpredictably •
- position signified by birds (det. ravens) [dev. they were waiting to eat the remains of the • bison]
- it was likely to be on the other side of the ridge •
- it was a mature. strong male (det, massive) [dev, potentially dangerous]

A2: the risks and possibilities once you had found the bear

- it might ignore you •
- it might attack / charge •
- good hearing [dev. need to be cautious] •
- poor sight [dev. keep your distance]
- it might be safely approached when asleep [dev. good opportunity to study]

A3: what you think about your friend's reactions and behaviour that day

- asks questions [dev. appeared interested / worried] ٠
- nervous / scared of bears (or being attacked by bear) (det. silent on the drive, 20 hours, • sleepless nights) [dev. might run away]
- horrified when he learned that bears eat whole porcupines [dev. reaction in his face] •
- fascinated / amazed / impressed by bear (det. observed through binoculars for more than • an hour) [dev. beautiful specimen]
- comments on him laughing (e.g. risky / nervous reaction) •
- he should have come with you when you approached the sleeping bear / missed out • [dev. expected him to be interested like Tom was]
- comments on him falling asleep (e.g. bearlike, annoying, surprising, amusing) [dev. not • interested / bored / tired because of worrying]
- friend was hard work / liability / additional responsibility

B: QUALITY OF WRITING: STRUCTURE AND ORDER, STYLE OF LANGUAGE (EXTENDED TIER)

Use the following table to give a mark out of 5.

Band 1: 5	The language of the response has character and sounds convincing and consistently appropriate. Ideas are firmly expressed in a wide range of effective and/or interesting language. Structure and sequence are sound throughout.
Band 2: 4	Language is mostly fluent and there is clarity of expression. There is a sufficient range of vocabulary to express ideas with subtlety and precision, and to give an indication of the personality of the character. The response is mainly well structured and well sequenced.

Band 3: 3	Language is clear and appropriate, but comparatively plain and/or expressing little opinion. Ideas are rarely extended, but explanations adequate. Some sections are quite well sequenced but there may be flaws structure.
Band 4: 2	nere may be some awkwardness of expression and some inconsistency of yle. Language is too limited to express shades of meaning. There is structural eakness and there may be some copying from the passage.
Band 5: 1	There are problems of expression and structure. Language is weak, repetitive or undeveloped. There is little attempt to explain ideas. There may be frequent copying from the original.
Band 6: 0	Sentence structures and language are unclear, the content is entirely copied, or the response is difficult to follow.

Question 2

This question tests Reading Objective R4 (10 marks):

- understand how writers achieve effects.
 - 2 Re-read the descriptions of:
 - (a) the sunrise in paragraph 1, beginning 'The sun was rising ...';
 - (b) the bear in paragraph 4, beginning 'When we got there ...'.

Select words and phrases from these descriptions, and explain how the writer has created effects by using this language. Write between 1 and $1\frac{1}{2}$ sides, allowing for the size of your handwriting. [Total: 10]

General notes:

This question is marked for the ability to select evocative or unusual words that carry connotations additional to general meaning, and for an understanding of ways in which the language is effective.

Mark for the overall quality of the response, not for the number of words chosen, bearing in mind that a range of choices is required to demonstrate an understanding of how language works, and that these should include images. Do not take marks off for inaccurate statements; simply ignore them. It is the quality of the analysis that attracts marks.

The following notes are a guide to what good responses might say about the selections. They can make any sensible comment, but only credit those that are relevant to the correct meanings of the words in the context and that have some validity. Alternative acceptable explanations, but not choices, should be credited. Credit comments on effects created by non-vocabulary choices such as grammar/syntax and punctuation devices where they are additional to comments on vocabulary.

(a) the sunrise in paragraph 1

Cambridge.com The general effect is that the light is liquid, and the colours are those to be found in painting. sunrise; the recurring images are those of water, art (combined in the idea of watercolour a pastels), and the colours pink and gold.

(image) spilled into the valley: the dawn is like water falling from the sky to the earth

(image) shadowed and broken: the light is uneven and fragmented because of the patches created by the clouds

(image) a moving watercolour of a morning: it is like a landscape / skyscape painting come to life

(image) waves of subtle pastels were flowing gently: the fluid, pale-coloured light is running through the fields

golden August pastures: a lustrous image of the countryside at harvest time

(image) the living expanse of water: when the light and water meet, the qualities of both momentarily and spectacularly combine to give life to each other

(image) a rippling mirror of shimmering pink and gold: the ruffled surface of the river reflects the warm, dazzling colours of the dawn

(b) the bear in paragraph 4

The bear is described in ways which make it seem both intimidating and impressive, yet elegant and skilful glistening black: the bear's dark colour was glossy, beautiful his coat scintillated: the fur sparkled in the sunlight, giving off a brilliant shine massive: describes the huge size of the animal but also implies how heavy and strong it is, like rock; it would be a formidable opponent for a human almost delicate: conversely, the bear's claws are fine, as if they belong to a much daintier creature

(image) bone white: this conjures the idea of graveyards: the bear is a savage predator and carnivore (and not a creature to be laughed at) dexterously: the animal makes subtle, skilful movements, like those of human fingers, when he is eating gnawed: used of carnivores with strong teeth, suggesting how dangerous a bear attack is extracted a bison carcass: suggests the brute force and strength of the bear, in contrast with its dexterity and finesse when using claws to eat

Only credit comments on stylistic effect where explicitly linked to choices.

	Marking Crite	ria for Question 3	Canno
QUALITY OF WRITING: CONCISION, FOCUS AND WRITING IN OWN WORDS Use the following table to give a mark out of 5.			IN OWN WORDS	1
	Band 1:	Both parts of the summary are well focused

Marking Criteria for Question 3

Band 1: 5	Both parts of the summary are well focused on the passage and the question. All points are expressed clearly, concisely and fluently, and in own words (where appropriate) throughout.
Band 2: 4	Most points are made clearly and concisely. Own words (where appropriate) are used consistently. The summary is mostly focused but may have an inappropriate introduction or conclusion.
Band 3: 3	There are some areas of concision. There may be occasional loss of focus or clarity. Own words (where appropriate) are used for most of the summary. Responses may be list-like or not well sequenced.
Band 4: 2	The summary is sometimes focused, but it may include comment, repetition, explanation or lifted phrases. It may exceed the permitted length.
Band 5: 1	The summary is unfocused, wordy or overlong. It may be answered in the wrong form (e.g. narrative or commentary). There may be frequent lifting of phrases and sentences.
Band 6: 0	Excessive lifting; no focus; excessively long.

It is important that candidates follow the instruction about writing a side in total for the summary, allowing for the size of the handwriting. The guidelines are as follows: large handwriting is approximately five words per line, average handwriting is eight/nine words per line, and small handwriting is eleven and more. Typed scripts consist of approximately 15 words per line. Allowing for the size of the handwriting, a response is considered long if it goes up to 11/4 pages; overlong if it reaches $1\frac{1}{2}$ pages; excessively long if more than $1\frac{1}{2}$ pages.

- NB: If a response is a copy of most or all of the passage, or consists entirely of the words of the passage (even in note form), then follow the procedure below.
 - Mark the points as usual, add them up and take away a half of the marks gained (round up any half marks).
 - Give 0 marks for writing.

Thus, a candidate who, by copying a large body of the passage word for word, or almost so, gets all 15 points for content will score 8 + 0 out of 20.

Do not, however, follow the above procedure for responses which incorporate sections of the passage but also include their own words, even where the response is a close paraphrase. In this case, use the band descriptors for content and quality of Writing.

NB2: If a response is in note form but in the candidate's own words, mark the points as usual, add them up and take away a third of the marks gained (round up any half marks). Give 1 mark for Writing.
