Cambridge IGCSEs are international in outlook, but retain a local relevance. The syllabuses provide opportunities for contextualised learning and the content has been created to suit a wide variety of schools, avoid cultural bias and develop essential lifelong skills, including creative thinking and problem-solving.

Our aim is to balance knowledge, understanding and skills in our programmes and qualifications to enable students to become effective learners and to provide a solid foundation for their continuing educational journey.

Through our professional development courses and our support materials for Cambridge IGCSEs, we provide the tools to enable teachers to prepare learners to the best of their ability and work with us in the pursuit of excellence in education.

Cambridge IGCSEs are considered to be an excellent preparation for Cambridge International AS and A Levels, the Cambridge AICE (Advanced International Certificate of Education) Group Award, Cambridge Pre-U, and other education programmes, such as the US Advanced Placement program and the International Baccalaureate Diploma programme. Learn more about Cambridge IGCSEs at www.cie.org.uk/cambridgesecundary2

Guided learning hours

Cambridge IGCSE syllabuses are designed on the assumption that learners have about 130 guided learning hours per subject over the duration of the course, but this is for guidance only. The number of hours required to gain the qualification may vary according to local curricular practice and the learners' prior experience of the subject.

1.3 Why choose Cambridge IGCSE Literature (Spanish)?

Cambridge IGCSE Literature (Spanish) offers learners the opportunity to read, interpret, evaluate and respond to a range of literature in Spanish. The range includes drama, prose and poetry from different periods and cultures. This course enables learners to deepen their understanding and appreciation of the ways in which writers use Spanish to express meaning and achieve effects. Cambridge IGCSE Literature (Spanish) will stimulate learners to read for pleasure, to explore wider and universal issues, promoting a better understanding of themselves and the world.

Cambridge IGCSE Literature (Spanish) is accepted by universities and employers as proof of knowledge and understanding of Literature in Spanish.

Prior learning

We recommend that candidates who are beginning this course should have previously studied some creative writing (drama, prose and/or poetry) in Spanish.

Progression

Cambridge IGCSE Certificates are general qualifications that enable candidates to progress either directly to employment, or to proceed to further qualifications.

Candidates who are awarded grades C to A* in Cambridge IGCSE Literature (Spanish) are well prepared to follow courses leading to Cambridge International AS and A Level Spanish, or the equivalent.

1.4 Cambridge ICE (International Certificate of Education)

Cambridge ICE is a group award for Cambridge IGCSE. It gives schools the opportunity to benefit from offering a broad and balanced curriculum by recognising the achievements of learners who pass examinations in a number of different subjects.

Learn more about Cambridge ICE at www.cie.org.uk/cambridgesecondary2

- make a little reference to the text
- show evidence of a simple personal response to the text.

5. Description of components

5.1 Component 1: Paper 1 Set Texts – Open Books

2 hours 15 minutes

This paper has three sections: Prose, Drama and Poetry. The set texts are listed in Section 6 of this syllabus document. Candidates answer three questions, each on a different set text, taken from at least two of the sections, Prose, Drama and Poetry. Questions are set in Spanish and candidates must answer in Spanish. All questions carry equal marks.

Candidates may take their set texts into the examination, but these texts must not contain any personal annotations, highlighting or underlining.

The paper contains three questions on each set text. One of the three questions is a passage-based question. One of the questions may be an empathic task. At least one question on each set text is an essay question.

Candidates must answer at least one (and can answer up to three) passage-based questions. These are marked with an asterisk (*) on the question paper.

Passage-based questions ask candidates to re-read a specific passage or poem from the set text before answering. The chapter, scene or page reference will be given on the examination paper. Heads of department can open the question paper one hour in advance of the examination to check the references and if candidates have been using a different edition of a set text from that specified in the syllabus. See the Cambridge Handbook for more details.

'Empathic tasks' are also known as 'empathetic' or 'creative response' tasks, and address the same assessment objectives as the essay and passage-based questions. These questions test knowledge, understanding and response, but give candidates the opportunity to engage more imaginatively with the text by assuming a suitable 'voice' (i.e. a manner of speaking for a specific character).

All questions encourage an informed personal response and test all assessment objectives. This means that candidates will have to demonstrate:

- their personal response, sometimes directly (answering questions such as 'What do you think?', 'What are your feelings about...?') and sometimes by implication (such as 'Explore the ways in which...')
- their knowledge of the text through the use of close reference to detail and use of quotations from the text
- their understanding of characters, relationships, situations and themes
- their understanding of the writer's intentions and methods, and response to the writer's use of language.

5.2 Component 2: Coursework

Candidates submit a portfolio of three assignments (600–800 words each), showing evidence of wider reading in all three categories: Poetry, Prose and Drama. Each assignment must be on a different literary text and may be either an essay or an empathic response piece. One assignment can be on a text prepared for the Paper 1 Set Texts – Open Books examination.

Assignments can be handwritten or written on a word processor. Candidates must write in Spanish.

In their assignments, candidates must demonstrate their knowledge of the text, their personal response to it and their awareness of the use of language, structure and characterisation in the text.

Coursework is assessed and marked by the Centre, and a sample is submitted for external moderation by Cambridge.

For more information and guidance on creating, presenting and marking the coursework, see Section 7. Coursework Assessment.

5.3 Component 3: Paper 3 Alternative to Coursework

1 hour 20 minutes

Paper 3 Alternative to Coursework comprises one question, which asks candidates for a critical commentary on (and appreciation of) a piece of previously unseen writing printed on the question paper.

The question may be based on a passage of literary prose, poetry or drama. It is set in Spanish and candidates must answer in Spanish.

6. Set texts for Paper 1 Set Texts – Open Books

For Paper 1 Set Texts – Open Books, candidates must answer three questions, each on a different text and selected from at least two of the three sections: Prose, Drama and Poetry. Candidates will gain an appreciation of texts and themes, ranging from a straightforward knowledge of content and surface meaning, to the communication of an informed personal response.

The editions listed below are the ones Cambridge will use for the chapter, scene or page references on the examination paper. Candidates can use any edition of a set text as long as it is not an abridged or simplified version. See Section 5.1 Component 1: Paper 1 Set Texts – Open Books for further information.

7. Coursework assessment

7.1 Coursework guidance notes

For further guidance and for the general regulations concerning school-based Coursework assessment, see the Cambridge Handbook.

Format

- The portfolio must contain three assignments, each on a different text.
- Each assignment must be securely fastened and clearly marked with the candidate's name, number and the Centre number.
- Work sent to Cambridge for external moderation must not be in clear plastic folders or ring binders. A completed Candidate Record Card must be included with each portfolio (Candidate Record Cards can be downloaded from www.cie.org.uk/samples).

General

- Assignments usually follow a programme of study undertaken by a teaching group. The best assignments usually follow a shared learning experience, but are selected by the candidate. It is recommended that the teacher and the candidate discuss which are the best assignments to submit.
- Candidates do not have to produce assignments under timed, examination-type conditions.
- Assignments may be completed at any stage during the course. Candidates are recommended to undertake more than three assignments, so as to provide a choice of assignments for their portfolio.

Texts

- The texts chosen as a basis for coursework must show evidence of wider reading in all three categories, Prose, Drama and Poetry. 'Wider reading' may be interpreted as the teacher thinks best.
- Assignment texts can be chosen by teachers or by candidates and teachers together. They must be originally written in Spanish, and of a quality appropriate to Cambridge IGCSE.
- All candidates within a Centre do not have to submit assignments on the same text.
- Candidates must cover two different literary forms or genres (Prose, Drama and Poetry), and can submit work on two texts of the same type (e.g. two drama texts).
- Assignments should show that the candidate has studied the whole text.
- If poetry or short stories are used for an assignment, candidates should cover a minimum of two poems or stories. Candidates are not required to compare poems or stories within the assignment, as it is assumed that the assignment is based on the study of a wider selection of poems or stories broadly equivalent to a poetry or short stories set text.
- One assignment can be on a text being read for the Paper 1 Set Texts – Open Books examination; this is optional, however, given that one aim of the Coursework paper is to encourage wider reading.
- It may be possible to link the texts studied for wider reading with those studied for the written examination, either thematically or by author, but there is no requirement to do so.
- The works selected need not be 'literary' in any narrow sense: pupils who have particular interests in genres (science fiction, fantasy, adventure, etc.), in themes, or in authors may be encouraged to explore these interests in their choice of wider reading, and even to propose their own tasks, though this must of course be done in close collaboration with the teacher to ensure the tasks are suitable.

Drafting assignments

- A general discussion on the progress of assignments is a natural part of the teacher/candidate relationship, as it is for other parts of the examination. In addition, if plans and first drafts are completed under teacher supervision, then teachers can be reassured of the authenticity of the final assignment.
- Teachers should not, however, mark, correct or edit draft assignment material; candidates can certainly draft and redraft work, but teachers should only give general guidance during this phase.

Length of assignments

- Assignments should be between 600 and 800 words. Assignments significantly under or over this word count may be self-penalising, although no assignment is penalised because of its length.

Presenting assignments

- Candidates may use word processors or can write their assignments by hand. Candidates should remember to proofread their work carefully.

Checking that portfolios meet syllabus requirements

- Teachers must check portfolios before they are finalised, especially if candidates have selected the work that makes up their portfolios.

Checking portfolios for authenticity

- It is the Centre's responsibility to make sure all coursework is the candidate's original work. Where appropriate, candidates should provide references to secondary source material, listing these at the end of the assignment.

Feedback following external moderation

- Centres receive a brief report from the external moderator following the assessment of their candidates' portfolios, usually at the same time as the final examination results.

7.2 Marking and moderating coursework

As well as commenting on the overall quality of the portfolio, recorded on the Individual Candidate Record Card, teachers must mark each assignment by indicating the strengths and errors and by providing a final comment.

Using the Grade Descriptions for Coursework (see next section), teachers mark each individual portfolio out of a total of 40 marks. Individual assignments may be awarded marks/grades in whatever way is most appropriate for teachers and candidates. However, the final mark for the completed portfolio must be an assessment of how the portfolio, overall, has met the assessment criteria overleaf. It must reflect not only the variability in the achievement across the three assignments, but also variable performance in the criteria applicable to each piece of work. Assessment will, therefore, usually involve balancing strengths and weaknesses in the candidate's work. For this reason, the final mark for the folder will not necessarily be a straightforward addition of three marks.

If a candidate submits fewer than three pieces of work, the piece(s) submitted should be assessed in the normal way and an overall mark awarded according to the quality of the work. A third of that mark should then be deducted for each piece that is wrongly included or is missing.

A zero mark will be recorded for candidates submitting no assignments.

Recording candidates' marks

Candidates' marks for Component 2: Coursework must be recorded on the Individual Candidate Record Card produced by Cambridge. These forms, and the instructions for completing them, may be downloaded from www.cie.org.uk/samples. The database will ask you for the syllabus code (i.e. 0488) and your Centre number, after which it will take you to the correct forms. Follow the instructions when completing each form.

Internal Moderation

When several teachers in a Centre are involved in internal assessment, then the Centre must make sure that all candidates are assessed to a common standard in order to produce a reliable order of rank. Centre assessments will then be subject to external moderation.

The internally moderated marks for all candidates must be recorded on the Coursework Assessment Summary Form. This form, and the instructions for completing it, may be downloaded from www.cie.org.uk/samples. The database will ask you for the syllabus code (i.e. 0488) and your Centre number, after which it will take you to the correct form. Follow the instructions when completing the form.

External Moderation

External moderation of internal assessment is carried out by Cambridge. Centres must submit candidates' internally assessed marks to Cambridge. The deadlines and methods for submitting internally assessed marks are in the Cambridge Administrative Guide.

Resubmission of coursework and carrying forward of internally assessed marks

- Information about resubmission of coursework and carrying forward of internally assessed marks can be found in the Cambridge Administrative Guide.

8. Other information

Equality and inclusion

Cambridge International Examinations has taken great care in the preparation of this syllabus and assessment materials to avoid bias of any kind. To comply with the UK Equality Act (2010), Cambridge has designed this qualification with the aim of avoiding direct and indirect discrimination.

The standard assessment arrangements may present unnecessary barriers for candidates with disabilities or learning difficulties. Arrangements can be put in place for these candidates to enable them to access the assessments and receive recognition of their attainment. Access arrangements will not be agreed if they give candidates an unfair advantage over others or if they compromise the standards being assessed.

Candidates who are unable to access the assessment of any component may be eligible to receive an award based on the parts of the assessment they have taken.

Information on access arrangements is found in the Cambridge Handbook which can be downloaded from the website www.cie.org.uk/examsofficer

Language

This syllabus and the associated assessment materials are available in English only.

Grading and reporting

Cambridge IGCSE results are shown by one of the grades A*, A, B, C, D, E, F or G indicating the standard achieved, A* being the highest and G the lowest. 'Ungraded' indicates that the candidate's performance fell short of the standard required for grade G. 'Ungraded' will be reported on the statement of results but not on the certificate. The letters Q (result pending), X (no results) and Y (to be issued) may also appear on the statement of results but not on the certificate.

Entry codes

To maintain the security of our examinations, we produce question papers for different areas of the world, known as 'administrative zones'. Where the component entry code has two digits, the first digit is the component number given in the syllabus. The second digit is the location code, specific to an administrative zone. Information about entry codes can be found in the Cambridge Guide to Making Entries.
